This deficiency would not have been liscovered at all had it not been for First Assistant Postmaster-General Wynns who brought Machen up with a round furn several weeks ago. So treat has been Machen's influence with Congress that when he came in last whiter with the statement that his appropriation for the entire year was already exhausted and asked for an ingency appropriation of $30,000 Congress gave it to him without questions.

ficiency, and in the nature of things must have deficiencies, or else the work would be cramped. This deficit was caused by laying out new routes in remote parts of the country, and a considerable part of this work was done for the benefit of California. In one year, under Postmaster-General Smith, there was a deficit from this cause of $220,000, and Congress made an appropriation for it without a word of protest.

On the whole, there was some pretty sharp criticism of Mr. Payne in Washington tonight, for his denouncing Machen for promoting his service with energy and in accordance with the established precedent throughout the Postoffice Department. That department, as a whole, it pointed out, has in some years run up a deficit amounting to several millions of dollars.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Congress will be asked at the opening of its nest session to make an appropriation to cover deficiencies in both the regular delivery service and the rural free-delivery service and the rural free-delivery service of the Postoffice Department. The Postmaster-General said he very much regretted the existence of the deficit, and for the first time publicly criticised the administration of A.

W. Machin, the general superintendent of the free-delivery system, who is now on indefinite leave of absence.

'This is not the first time that a deficit has occurred in the free-delivery service," said Mr. Paype, "but I regret it. At the opening of the last Congress, Mr. Machen pointed out that, without additional appropriations, no more routes could be established besides those ready to be installed January I. He said, however, if Congress appropriated $560,000 for the purpose, the work could be continued during the rest of the fiscal year. This appropriation was promptly made, but it was exhausted. Despite this fact, the offices (the free-delivery offices), were going on increasing the deficiency, and if we had not taken steps to curtail the expenditures and suspend the establishment of routes until the beginning of the next fiscal year, the deficit would have been much larger. It was not good administration."

Continuing, the Postmaster-General said that part of the deficiency was discovered before Machen was given his leave.

Gain in Excess of Fifteen Thomas Dollars in Receipts Over Precedi Year—Large Increase in Circulation

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

LEXINGTON (Va.) May 21.—The Southern Presbyterian General Assembly conversed here today.

The report on foreign missions gave the total additions to the missions' churches during the year as 1574, ah increase of 710 over last year. The number of accessions in the African mission was 737. There has been great interest among the Chinese, and a greater readiness than heretofore to hear the gospel, but the missionaries have wisely exercised great caution in receiving members on profession of faith, because they are auxious only to receive such admission from pure and appritual motives. The work in Brazii, Cuba, Japan, Korea and Mexico has shown steady progress, but no remarkable development during the year. The receipts of the year from all sources were $186,486, as gain of $18.575 over last year.

The North Kinng China mission calls loudly for seven additional evangelists. The Mid-China mission calls for two white men, and as many more colored missionaries as can be sent. Korea calls for two doctors and two evangelists, and a lady to open a girl's school. Brazil needs a lady teacher for the station of San Joan del Rei, and a married couple to open the school work in Campinas. The most urgent need of all the missions is for a larger fund, to be used in training a native ministry, and the development of the native forces on whom the great work of evangelising every heathen nation must finally depend. The minimum sum required for any adequate support of our work as now organized, supported that the work has three departments, two of which have been organized, and are working with efficiency. The circulation of Sunday-school periodicals increased by a million copies. Collections from the churches and Sunday-schools amounted to file, 234, an increase over the year previous of $2000. Of this sum $4000 was given by the Sunday-schools for extension work. Sales increased $10,000; $4000 was given for Sunday-school for extension work. ANN ARBOR (Mich.) May 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Albert A. Patterson, vice-president of the senior medical class, has mysteriously disappeared, and is either the victim of one of the most sensational tragedies ever recorded, or is a prince of jokers.

Patterson left Miss Maude Hinman of Kingston, N. Y., his fiancée, shortly before midnight last night. This morning his white crush hat was found on the lawn under his room win low. There was a hole in it, and the hat was spattered with blood.

In the drawer of his desk was found an envelope marked as follows: "May at 1.12:20. Still alive. To be opened in case of my death or disappearance." Inside of this envelope was found a small bit of tissue paper upon which was written this mystic third warning: "III—By May 20 Maximo." And accompanying this was a hair-raising letter in explanation of the warning. In it Patterson wrote that in the winter of '77 and '38 he was in San Antonio, Tex., and wandered into the Mex. ter of $7$ and $3$ he was in San Antonio, Tex., and wandered into the Mexican part of the town, where he stumbled into a meeting of an organization. According to the letter he was gagged and bound, and made to swear to a lot of things, and was then taken across the river blindfolded and released.

He then goes on to say that he had almost forgotten the master when he got a note warning him that sis life was forfeited, and it would be taken. This was followed by two others.

Patterson would have graduated in a month. His home is at Greencastle, ind. From the latter city a report came tonight that he was engaged to marry a young lady there next month, Devery himself led the procession through the Ninth District to the "farm," where he was nominated for Mayor, and where from the tail of his familiar old truck he made a speech outlining his platform. The Devery campaign wagon led the marchers, more than a thousand, with hundreds of others following on sidewalks. Devery himself ommanded everything, including the police, three bands and wagons with calcium lights. He lustily shouted orders, and everybody obeyed with alacrity. George Washington Gibbons, chairman, nominated Devery for Mayor. He said the issue was whether or not people should own their docks. "Columbus had its Sam Jones," cried he, "Cleveland its Tom Johnson, Chicago its Carter Harrison, and New York has its William S. LONDON, May 21.—(By Atlantic Cable.) Lord Rosebery expressed surprise that his speech at Burneley on May 19, in which he dealt with Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's cariff speech delivered at Birmingham on May 15, has been interpreted as in any way supporting Chamberlain's proposal to establish reciprocity between Great Britain and her colonies, and explains that he purposely treated the subject uncontroversially because he was addressing a non-political audience. Lord Rosebery adheres absolutely to his opinion that the Liberal Party is indissolubly bound to free trade, and that anything like an imperial commercial league would weaken the empire internally and receive the permanent hostility of the world.

All the members are appointees of former Gov. Gage.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—The property at Menlo Park, consisting of a handsome residence and 306 acres of land, which some five years age was deeded by Miss Jennie Flood to the California State University, its about to revert to her. It seems the Menlo parcel was included in other property which was given to the State, as it was thought at that time that the university might be able to utilize it for one of its many colleges, but time has demonstrated its unfitness for any such purpose, and Miss Flood has now decided to take that part of the gift back and reimburse the State either with money or property which may be appropriated to educational purposes. The Menlo house with is surroundings is one of the handsomest mansions in that locality, and has long been one of the show places. The transfer will be made in about three weeks, and if money is paid the amount will probably be $150,000. SHE WILL TAKE IT BACK.

For 4 months she laid ill from partial paralysis brought on by the wrong kind of food ruining stomach and then effecting the nervous system. During the time she was getting well the physicians fed her on Grape-Nuts.

She says: "My diet consisted of two teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts and some cream each meal for two months. Then increased to two dessert spoonfuls and to show how it sustains nature. I never lost 5 pounds in the whole 4 months. I got well slowly and am now in prime health and in the last 3 months have been in 10 foreign countries. I carry Grape-Nuts everywhere with me.

"In London I saw the big Grape-Nuts signs on the "busses" all about. Considering how near death I was and how well I am now through good food alone and that I am 60 years old, my friends look upon my recovery as marvelous." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

ORANGE (N. J.) May El.—Speaking on labor unions at a dinner of the Civic Cfub of Orange last night, Rishop Henry C. Potter said the conditions ewhich confront the people of America are largely of their own making. He declared that one person had more to do with the situation than any one else, and that was the manager of the workingman, but because he tried to understand the interests of the workingman, but because he wanted to get out of the workingman all he possibly could for the benefit of his employer, nothing more.

"I believe," said Bishop Potter, "the folly of the labor organizations in several inspances has allenated a great deal of the sympathy that would otherwise have gone to them. One thing that we must realize is that the community is not made up of either laborers or capitalists, but rather of those between, who are very largely affected by these difficulties.

PRETORIA, May 21.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The first British Transvaal

Parliament was opened today by Sir Arthur Lawey, Lieutenant Governor of the Transvaal. After the members had been sworn in the Lieutenant Governor delivered his inaugural address. On welcoming the new and large legislative council, the Lieutenant Governor maid the government had done its beat to obtain a representative body without having recourse to a popular election which in these times would only create political and racial strife. He foreshadowed important measures for local self-government, heavy expenditure in the extension of railroads and other public works, and promised to meet local sentiment in regard to education. Provision would be made to teach the Dutch language in accordance with the letter of the peace terms.

This was the emphatic declaration of Rabbi Rappaport in Both El Temple at a meeting of Jews called to protest against recent statements made by Count Cassini, Russian Ambassador at Washington as a sort of justification of the treatment of the Rusian Jews.

PARIS, May 21.—The stewards of the French Jockey Club the supreme French turf authority today issued a formal notification reciting that "Tod" Sloan, the American Jockey, had exercised Rose de Mai at Chantilly last Sunday without authority, and therefore excluding him from further entrance to the weighing inclosures or training grounds of the Society.

The Temps says Sloan's exclusion was less for breach of the rules in galloping Rose de Mai than for "spreading turf rumora." The action of the stewards follows numerous incidents connected with Rose de Mai's victory in the race for the Prix de Diane at Chantilly last Sunday. Rose de Mai was second favorite at 4 to 1, but reports on the morning of the race that she coughed, and that it was probable she would not start, sent the price 12 to 1. Later R developed that Rose de Mai was heavily backed at long odds, and she won in fine style, whereupon M. Marghioloman, a well-known horse owner, voiced the public feeling with the result that M. Charron, who superintended the filly's training, challenged him to fight a duel. Brether, the trainer, was fined 1400 for unauthorized use of the training grounds.

The Colombian government is said to hold the "whip-hand" over the Panama Canal Company, and to be disposed to compel that corporation to divide with it a portion of the $40,the United States if the treaty be ratified. Probably the truth of the situation will not be definitely known until the assembling of the Colombian Congress, which has been set for June 20. It may be disclosed, at that time, that the stories at present affoat have lit-tle foundation in actual fact, but have been invented for a purpose. CLIMATE COUNTS.

Two dispatches, published in the same column of The Times of Thursday, furnish food for thought, espe-cially in this favored section of the describing the terrible snowstorm and has just passed. Three feet of snow was reported in some places, the thermometer ranging from 4 to 6 deg. below zero. Traffic on the Great Northern Railroad was seriously in-terfered with, and the loss of stock was conservatively estimated at $2,000-000, $0,000 head being the approximate estimate of the number lost. This loss will be increased by the total ruin of the fruit crop throughout Northern Montana, the storm being 20 of any year since the record of maximum temperatures had been kept. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the thermometer registered 90 deg. Ninety deg., in the moist atmospher of the Atlantic Coast cities, is equivalent to about 110 deg. in South-ern California. There were two deaths from heat and five prostrations in New York on that date, while at Philadelphia the hot weather had caused three deaths and many prostrations, the temperature reaching a maximum of 92 deg. At Baltialso 92, and three prostrations from the heat were reported.

What a contrast are these reports to the conditions prevailing in Southern California. Turning to another page of The Times of Thursday we find that for the twenty-four hours ending at 5 p.m. on the 20th the maximum temperature in Los Aneles was 64 deg., and the minimum 51 deg., a difference of only 13 deg

Many of our friends on the outside are fond of poking fun at the enthusiasm displayed by Californians in referring to the climate of this on this subject all they please, but let ours has a solid value in dollars and cents, apart from the comfort which it imparts to life. Take away the give us as a substitute, conditions as above described, and where would section that we have witnessed during the past few years?

Moreover, it should be remembered that this comparatively perfect climate is quite limited in area. The climate of the whole State is goodfar better than that found throughthe mountains-but the choicest of California climate, the "cream of the cream," is found south of Tehachepi Range. We like the way things look, as they were going to open up for the summer season. A sea serpent was seen in British Columbia waters al-most before the froat was off the pump-kin, and now a Boston fisherman has been dragged many miles out to sea that. With these incidents for a starter this coming summer ought to be the most picturesque and highly up on the calendar for many years.

The movement to pave Seventh street from San Pedro to Alameda, and Central avenue from First to Minth streets, should be promptly followed by a paving campaign all over the city. Nothing serves better to advertise a city and its enterprise than well-paved thoroughfares. As The Times has said repeatedly, we ought to have the best streets in the world.

Besides having learned the science of irrigation from California, the gov-ernment is now explaining, through the medium of the Agricultural Depart-ment's year book, that the California method of irrigating the dusty high-ways with crude oil has its strong points. We study to enlighten the be-nighted of other States.

The programme closed with an exhibition of stereopticon views illustrating the Missions of California, by Charles F. Lummis, who gave a brief preface concerning the men who built them, who, he said, were people who believed in things, who cared for things and who accomplished things.

MORNING AND AFTERNOON.

"What is needed in club work today is not so much paper, but more personality," said Mrs. Lou V. Chapin, who was among the speakers of the morning. She gave d stimulating talk so neciprocity in club work, saying that there the definition is the same as when the term is used in industrial life, and means "give and take"—each club doing its individual work according to the twentieth coattry tenisory toward specialisation; each contributing to the common store, and each in turn drawing from that same as among those who apoke in the discussion that followed, and triged that each club woman adopt the principle of reciprocity, and do her duty to her club, the president and herself in the matter of giving as well as taking.

Mrs. J. B. Lippincott's paper on "Porestry," dealt primarily with the matter of giving as well as taking.

Mrs. J. B. Lippincott's paper on "Porestry," dealt primarily with the matter of giving as well as taking.

Mrs. J. B. Lippincott's paper on "Porestry," dealt primarily with the preservation of the California forests, although interwoven like warp and woof was the subject of irrigation. The words of the speaker found a ready echo in the hearts of her audience, for forestry is a cause in which club women everywhere are deviced almost the entire secutive and the effect that is being made to reforest the burnt districts of the forest the burnt districts of the forest that is being made to reforest the burnt districts of the mountains from seeds, the measure of success that is being met with, and

Mrs. Mary M. Greenleaf gave a breesy little talk on "California History and Landmarks" that called several laddes to their feet to speak on the subject. Mrs. Cross of Monrovia asked that the club women interest themselves in the preservation of California wild flowers.

"A woman's influence is in direct ratio to her intelligence, or, we may say, the circumterence of her influence is described by the diameter of her intelligence," was an axiom propounded by Mrs. Burdett in her talk on "Civic Improvement." She claimed that the word "civic" held broader meaning than its usually accepted definition, "municipal, in that it pertains to the city, the citisen and to citisonship, and includes ethics. Civil polity, economics, history of civil movements, etc. The way to build is to begin at the beginning and work up, and information is the foundation. The linck of which has greatly handicapped women workers. They respond readily to an appeal to help on a good cause, and pledge hearty support without inquiring if it is feasible. When asking for legislation, the first query that meets them is "What are the conditions, and what can be done about it?" and in order to bring about the desired result, women must know the law. Study your city charter, study your State Constitution, study the Constitution of the United States. The largest thing possible for women to accomplish is to create and maintain right public opinion, and the one paramount responsibility that resus on club women is to so influence the men of their households that they will go to the polis and vote for the best men. Mrs. George H. Wadleigh reported for the traveling libraries, telling concisely of the large place they occupy in the work of the federation. After the close of the session the Epell was at home in the pretty clubrooms at Cumnock Hall, and the lights and shades of district federation meetings were discussed over a cup of tea.

There has been a well-sustained interest at all the meatings of the session, discussion has been interesting, and the spir

Regal Drssing and Regal Shiner Give the Best Tolish SLIPLESS OXFORDS.

REGAL Oxfords clasp the heel and the instep so snugly that they can neither slip nor chafe.

Because—they are made upon lasts which are designed for Oxfords only, instead of upon high laced shoe lasts, extemporized into Oxfords. Cut for right and left feet, from patterns shaped to each last—instead of from the usual "interlocking" patterns, which economics lastier and laborate activities. which economize leather and labor, at the expense of fit and shape retention. Every Regal proves, before purchase, that it has

THE OIL INDUSTRY CALIFORNIA'S OILED

ROADS INDORSED.

APPROVES OF SYSTEM.

Several Kern County Companies Levy "Irish" Dividends-Webfoot Company Builds New Derrick-Movement on the Stock Market Yesterday.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)

James W. Abbott, special agent for the Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coast division, in a special report, makes a review of the use of mineral oil in road improvement, which he says has been a great success in California. He been a great success in California. He says:

"The growth of oil in popular favor in Southern California has been steady and rapid. Many authorities who have had most experience with it have come to regard it in a dry region as the most important discovery ever mde in road making. Quite a considerable number of people have said to the writer: 'We could not go back to the old conditions; if we had to give up our oiled roads we would move away."

Mr. Abbott thinks that oil can be used to advantage at any place in the United States where the roads become very dry and dusty and where water can be kept out of their foundations in the winfer, so that they will remain firm and not give way beneath the oiled surface in the spring. The reliance must, he said, be upon an oil

UNPOPULAR WRINKELE.

UNPOPULAR WRINKKLE.

THE "IRISH DIVIDENDS."

A wrinkle that will never become popular has been started by a number of Kern county oil companies. They are declaring "Irish" dividends.

In most instances the assessments are to raise funds to carry on improvements on their respective properties. Among the advertised assessments is that of the Devil's Den Consolidated Oil Company of Visalia, which has levied for 1½ cents a share. The Gray Gander with offices in San Francisco and property in the Kern River field, has called upon its stockholders to give up 2 cents a share. The Junction Oil Company of San Francisco, also operating in Kern River, has levied an assessment of 10 cents a share. A 1-cent assessment has been passed by the Oakland Oil and Asphaltum Company, and there are others.

The Bonansa and the Provident companies are advertising delinquent stock sales. All these are exceptions to the general run of northern operators, many of which are paying straight and regular dividends.

Arested and Fined.

That poker joints are operated almost before the noses of the policeof this city was brought forcibly to their attention yesterday afternoon by a fight which which occurred in the joint conducted by Dan Kearney on the third floor of the Wilson Block at First and Spring streets. Walter Davis and Charles Tobin were the combatants, and the mill was a flerce one while it lasted, as was evidenced by the faces of the two men, which were covered with bruises and blood.

Patrolman Murray, who is on the South Spring-street beat, was notified that theer was a fight in Kearney's poker room, and going there he found the doors locked and was refused admission. He could hear the noise made by the two combatants, and to him it sounded as if half a dozen men were fighting. The officer kicked open the

CITY LIBRARY BUILDING NOW IN PROSPECT.

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE DEVISING A FEASIBLE PLAN.

City Officials Interested in Moveme to Secure Spacious and Ornate Building for Great Institution—Subscription and Bond Issue Contemplated.

Hope long deferred of a public library uilding may have its fruition within two years.

That is the time set by a number of public-spirited citizens who are determined that Los Angeles shall have a suitable home for its thousands of volumes of fiction, poetry and prose.

Ambitious plans are now being formulated for the construction of spacious quarters of ornate design. Central Park has been selected as the site for the proposed library building, and the City Council will be asked within a few weeks to set that block of ground apart for library purposes.

the City Council will be asked within a few weeks to set that block of ground apart for library purposes.

The Municipal League has championed the library cause, and has interested a number of city officials in the movement. As yet the plans are only in embryo, but the men of the Municipal League are accustomed to accomplish whatever task they undertake. At a meeting held last Tuesday night at the home of G. F. Since the charier was amended and the placed at $5,00,000, exclusive of indebleciences for water systems and sewers, abundant leeway is left for additional bond issue. Gutstanding bonds of the city that come within the purview of the limiting clause amount to little more than $2,000,000, thus leaving the thoroughly remodeled. As is well known, the library has extended to the attic and to the basement. Thousands of valuable volumes are packed away where they can only once of the library rooms were never constructed to upholds so great a weight, and fear has trequently been expressed that a portion of the building would collapse some day. Just Two of the "Sports."

With an immaculate Panama and the very latest in a summer suit, Charles Tobin sat in the prisoners' dock with the drunks yesterday afternoon. Beside bim was Walter Davis, not quite so fastiduously arrayed. But they didn't add any giory to the drunk's "corner." Their bloated faces were scarred with bloody marks, and they leered foggliy. They had a 'gambler's argument in "Shorty's" poker den in the Wilcox Block the night before, and Officer Murray was forced off the even level of his way along Spring street to inquire what the dreadful racket up there portended. He peeked through the keyhole in time to see Tobin and Davis each trying to demolish the other. Justice Austin fined them $29 apiece, which was paid.

MINES AND MINING. TEWPORT SMELTER TO MAKE IRON PIGS.

CRUDE OIL WILL BE USED IN NEW

"We will manufacture pig iron and will use crude oil in the smeiting." asid E. Riveroll, secretary and treasurer of the California iron and Steel Company, which broke ground this week at Newport Beach for a large reduction plant.

"All contracts have been let for the machinery, and brick and other materials for the buildings are now on the ground. The plant will cost $50,000, and if we are lucky the smelter will be in operation within six months."

The plant will be the first of its kind ever built for commercial work, the novel feature being the use of crude oil in smeiting iron ore. The furnaces employed are patented, being an invention of Mr. Riveroll, and have many features that will prove interesting should the plant prove all that is claimed for it. By the method employed the ore and flux are introduced through charging doors directly under the stack and passed down the incline bottom of the furnace, the molten metal and slag being collected in the crucible at the lower end, from which they can be tapped off. The oil is introduced with steam through a number of jets placed on top of the furnace.

At the start it will have a capacity of 100 tons of ore a day, but the plant will be so constructed that this can be increased to five times that capacity with little additional expense.

The company is fortunate in having large deposits of fron to draw from. These deposits are situated in Lower California in what is known as the san Ysidio mining district, some 111 miles south of Ensenada. The company has acquired about 100 acres, on which are immense iron deposits. This iron is said to be a black hematite and averages 65 to 62 per cent. pure. The company has acquired about 100 acres, on which are immense iron deposits. This iron is said to be a black hematite and averages 65 to 62 per cent. pure. It handles 300 tons of ore a day, and, new that success has attended its operating the present prevent in the sendence of the new concentrator has estimated a sowever, to the company, for almost every pound of the rock in the hill can be worked to profit, especially if concentrated. The old stopes are being blasted down and the ore drawn away through tunnels driven on the lowest levels. A story is told that a 25-foot high in which a few kegs of black powder were discharged, knocked down not less than 3500 tons of ore.

THAT STRIKE NEAR PEARCE. THAT STRIKE NEAR PEARCE.
Reports from Pearcs are that the recent strike near that place, which caused great excitement among the mining men of that section, is good. The value of the ore is increasing as depth is attained, and arrangements are being made to sink a shaft 200 feet deep.

Experienced miners claim that the find gives promise of becoming a second Commonwealth. All the available mineral ground about the discovery has been located.

Woman Slid from Car.

Mrs. E. Aulthouse, who lives at No. 639 Daly street, sustained painful injuries yesterday afternoon, caused by falling from Maple-avenue car No. 195 as it rounded the curve at the junction of Main and Spring streets at a comparatively high rate of speed. She was sitting on one of the outside seats and on the side of the longest curve. The motion of the car sent her sliding from the seat to the pavement of the sirest, and she struck on her head. At the Receiving Hospital a long laceration in the back of her head was stitched.

Law School Government.

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Law College of the University of Southern California, yesterday afternoon, action was taken to make the law school in reality a part of the university. The Law College has been affiliated in a general way with the university, but has elected its own dean and faculty. Henceforth the election of all the officials and faculty of this department will be by the board of trustees of the university proper and all of the workings of the school will be directly under the supervision of the university board. It is practically settled that D. M. Hammack Esq., and James W. Mays, Esq., will be elected dean and secretary, respectively, for the coming year.

pastor ought to be elected, and on this appealed to the pastors for their support of Dr. Coyle. Singly he then took up the eldership, evangelistic and home mission, and educational work of the church, saying that Dr. Coyle, above all things, represented the mission factors.

"I was asked a few days ago," continued Dr. Page, "whether Dr. Coyle was liberal or conservative. I wish to remind the assembly that my candidate attended a funeral in New York, when he was embaimer, graved age, monument builder and maker of the epitaph of those old troubles. He officiated when these old frost of the church were burled so deep that they could never be resurrected. Liberal Yes, in all good works. ROBINSON WAS FUNNY.

G. M. Robinson, of Sterling, Ill., proved the humorist of the speakers, in placing in nomination Rev. Dr. A. C. Zenos, of the McCormick Seminary, Chicago, Robinson explained that he had no idea of speaking when he came to the afternoon session, but his impromptu and strange actions threw the big audience into convuisions of laughter several times.

"I want to nominate the very best man for moderator," said Mr. Robinson bluntly, "Why not elect the best while we have him here. He may not be a commissioner to the next assembly. These other men you can get almost any time. I have no idea he will be elected, but he might," added Robinson.

With these three things and this book of rules which it is my duty to hand to you, you will be able to successfully fill the position of moderator. I pray the blessing of Almighty God upon you as you take charge of this General Assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States of America."

Dr. Coyle responded with much feeling, thanking the assembly for the high honor, and expressing his hope for divine guidance in the office. He paid California a glowing tribute, and declared himself in favor of more aggressive work by the Presbyterian church.

Inspiring Song a Stirring Preface to the Morning Session Yesterday—More Than a Thousand Persons Could Not Promptly at 11 o'clock yesterday the great pipe-organ in Immanuel Church pealed out in deep-toned melody the anthem that signaled the opening of the Fifteenth Annual General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the United States of America—the largest one that ever gathered in the history of the church.

A moment later there filed upon the

As the organ solo gradually merged into the familiar notes of the Doxology, Dr. Van Dyke stepped forward to the desk; the multitude burst into singing in volume that drowned the organ; the moderator uttered a brief word of prayer opening with the sentends: "O Lord, thou who art the source of life and light," and the great samebly was under way.

Two hours prior to the opening of the assembly was under way.

Two hours prior to the opening of the assembly was under way.

Two hours prior to the opening of the assembly be people began to crowd the gallery, which was the only space allotted to spectators, and for an hour before the organ pealed the welcome sound it was packed to its utmost, while the commissioners bussed about the lobbies and committee-rooms, engaged in the business of setting up pins for the moderator contest.

A haif hour before the opening, the people gorged in the gallery began to sing sacred songs, and soon the hundreds of men on the lower floor took it up, and the very rafters echoed with the volume of sound. It was inspiring song, and a stirring preface to the service that followed.

A moment after the opening prayer by Dr. Van Dyke, it was decided to throw open the floor of the assembly to spectators, for this service, as there was a great demand for admission to hear the sermon of the moderator. It was but a moment until aisles were overflowing out into the lobbies; every ocener was standing full and women and men perched on the edge of the platform, in their eagerness to hear the man who has moved so many people by the magic of his pen, and whe craved the first opportunity to hear

It was almost 7 o'clock when the season electing the modern' pourned, but in the next hour the interior of immanuel Church underwent a quick and thorough transformation. The chairman's desk was removed from the front of the platform, and with it went the clangorous moderator's gavel, the roll books, the masses of reports, the parliamentary rules, and all the other paraphernalia which made the rostrum throughout the day resemble the business end of a national party convention.

In place of the desk stood a pulpit, simply decorated with an open Bible. The desks of the stated clerk and the clerk of the season were hidden away behind tail palms, while below all the press tables had been removed for the large stand upon which it rested, beneath a white cloth, the sacramental bread and wine. A row of altar chairs, in which sac the officialting clergy and light, were backed up against the edge of the platform, and in the long sweep of the platform, and in the long sweep of the peace of worship.

The hour set for the administration of the sacrament was 1:45 o'clock, but was fully $2.30 o'clock before the ourse who called to order live the religing moderator, Dr. Henry Van Dyke. Some big movements are incubating in the minds of the leaders in the General Assembly. One of the most important is the grim determination of the men from West Virginia to erect a new synod. They have become tired of being a tall to the kite of Pennsylvania, and are resolved to form on State lines, as the other synods.

The Rev. Dr. R. R. Bigger of Wheeling. W. Va., says:

"That the time for the erection of a new synod on the soil of West Virginia is developing faster industrially and commercially than any State of its size in the Union. And the Presbyterians of the State are wide-awake to the fact that if the church of their choice is to grow proportionately, there must be a synod built on State lines, as is now the case with twenty-one of our synods; thus uniting all Presbyterian the assembly, but will be greeted with the assembly, but will be greeted with lorg-continued applause, in order to give it emphasis.

Routine reports will be heard in rapid succession on the Assembly Herald, on the Digest, on work in Europe, on Hungarian immigrants, on Omaha Theological Seminary, on the New York million-dollar mission house, on Sabbath observance, on vacancy and supply, on the constitution on divorce and remarriage, on evangelistic work, on sustentation, on the Liverpool Council, on the Prosbyterian Alliance, on reprinting the minutes, and on church statistics. There are sixteen special committees and a movement is planned to kill off the most of them as unnecessary, and a burden on the church.

PULLING FOR BUFFALO.

Another movement well on its feet the first day of the assembly, an unprecedented thing, is to take the Presbyterian General Assembly of 1904 to Buffalo, N. Y. Cleveland, O., competed with Los Angeles for this year's assembly, and is so sore over its defeat that it will not ask for the next assembly. The Baltimore people will put in a formal invitation, but will not push it against the determination of Buffalo.

The following Buffalo men are in the assembly: Hon. H. H. Bingham. Rev. Duncan Cameron, Rev. Edward P. Cleaveland, Rev. W. C. McGarvey, Edward Emerson, and a large corps of visitors. Niagara Falls is played as one of the attractions.

In addition to the prominent men previously mentioned as after-dinner speakers, a treat that will be appreciated is the response to be made by Rev. Robert J. Burdette, who may be derended upon to turn up the corners of the Presbyterian routh, and excite the Presbyterian risibles.

The toastmaster has not been definitely decided upon, but the committee will have interesting news concerning that later. No changes will be made in the arrangement for the concert in the balcony, to be given by Harrley Hamilton's Symphony Orchestra: the balcony is reserved for ladies exclusively. Under no circumstances will the tables or balcony be outsold, it is announced.

Dr. Putnam Greeted as "Ben" by Forgetful Elder—Dr. Holmes and His Task—Col. Budlong, Idaho's Reavy Member—Assembly Notes.

One of the greatest orators and best-known old soldiers in the assembly is the Rev. Dr. Benjamin L. Agnew of Philadelphia, secretary of the Board of Ministerial Relief, who will address the assembly tomorrow morning. Dr. Agnew never fails to bring tears to the eyes of the most stolid commissioners and the church will be crowded to hear him. He was born and raised on the battlefield of Gettysburg, and served through the War of the Rebellion, and wears the button of the Loyal Legion. Dr. Agnew has filled successful pastorates in Johnstown, Pa., in the large East Liberty Church of Pittsburgh, in the Bethlehem Church of Pittsburgh before taking the chair he now occupies.

The commanding speaker this morning will be the Rev. Dr. Richard E. Holmes of Pittsburgh, who will address the assembly on the raising of the debt on the $12,000.000 mission house in New York. The leading Wall-street men of New York selected Dr. Holmes for this task. He will this morning show that he has raised $1,24,600. Dr. Holmes, says that this amount is actu-

Dr. Holmes will rise to the height of his greatest eloquence in his fervid appeal to the assembly to at once pay off the remaining debt. Dr. Holmes is a graduate of Middlebury College and Auburn Theological Seminary. He was a business man for many years before he entered the ministry. He was a paster of the church at Warren, Pa., two and a half years, and has now been thirteen years in the gradual properties of the very wealthy shady-side Presbyterian Church of Pittaburgh. He received both the titles of D.D. and L.L.D. from his aims mater.

The most imposing figure on the platform of the General Assembly yesterday was Rev. Dr. Dougias P. Futnam of Princeton, Ind. He was at once picked out, as he always has been, as the double of the late President Harrison, who told him how giad they were they had voted for him and how giad they were to meet him.

But he was greatly surprised yesterday was a commissioner, Dr. Futnam was greated by acores as President Harrison, who told him how giad they were they had voted for him and how giad they were to meet him.

(4.) Dam in Black Cafion, 200 feet high. This will water $6,000 acres above Bull's Head, and furnish power for pumping from its own reservoir sufficient water for irrigating $6,000 acres in Detrital Valley, Arisonn, and 70,000 acres in Portorn Hope Valley, Nevada, making a total of 200,000 acres. This reservoir will be over 150 miles in length, and together with those below will solve the problems presented as nearly as natural conditions permit for a century or more to come, and probably permanently. In case more storage capacity is required in the future, other reservoirs with dams of moderate height may be constructed above Virgin River in the Cafoon of the Colorado, each of which will furnish additional storage capacity, additional power, and additional navigation facilities.

GREAT STORAGE CAPACITY.

The plans mentioned, however, would provide a storage capacity equivalent to the width of the river channel, a length of 400 miles, and an average depth of perhaps 30 feet, or 1,600,000 acre feet. The need of more storage capacity could only occur by the complete filling by silt of the last reservoir mentioned, which would are not than pay for the additional reservoir, and the same facts would apply to any additional storage required later.

ANSWERS BY EXPERTS" SERIES.

Wanted to Reform.

Rev. Thomas Fancher, halted one day on a Texas prairie to cook and eat their dinner. They had been to a presbytery meeting many miles distant.

After they had broken their fant on buffalo meat and bread and coffee they sat listening to the calls of the qualis and watching the prairie dogs sitting solemnly at the edges of their holes and following a gaunt coyote with their eyes as he loped with sneaking pace toward the horizon. While watching him one of them caught sight of another object, just visible in the distance.

A PRAIRIE "JINNY."

A PRAIRIE "JINNY."

"What in the world is that?" he asked his companions, pointing toward it. They looked long and carnestly and guessed often, but could not agre. In the meantime the strange object was rapidly approaching and slowly resolving its mysteries to their comprehension.

"It's a jinny," said Tom.

"A jinny and a man," said Andrews.

If P. T. Barnum had had his outht made to order for his circus it could not have been more absurd. The Jinny was exceedingly small and hairy and its ears were almost of an incredible size. Her rider was short almost to dwarfishness, thickset, bowlegged, gnomelike, and was almost extinguished by a fuzzy white stovepipe hat. With every jolt of the feet of the diminucive steed the stubby arms of the rider rose and fell against his sides with a regular, machinelike motion!

As they reached the camp fire the filnny paused as suddenly as if she had run against a wall of stone, dropped her head, closed her eyes and fell asleep—her tail, however, automatically switching flies.

Her rider threw his right foot over her ears, dropped to the ground, squat'ed like a Turk, laid his hat beside him, spat into the fire and gave utterance to this brief but friendly salutation: "Howdy?"

"Howdy?" said the campers in a chorus.

"Where you all 'gbin?"

"Howdy?" said the campers in a chorus.

"Where you all 'gbin?"

"Prespecting." Andrews said, assuming to speak for his friends.

"Which way you headed?"

"South."

"Been traveling far?"

"Right proof."

"Strangers."

"Rather."

"Yankees."

"New Yorkers."

"Goin' in the wrong direction."

"How so?"

SQUAW MAN'S ADVICE.

He threw his thumb over his shoulder toward the North and nodded significantly as if it was there that Eldorado lay.

"What do you mean?" asked Andrews.

he said with a significant wink.
"Of course."
"You'll not find them in that direction."

his thigh, then patting it and finally rubbing his corduroy trousers caressingly.

"Marry a squaw!" exclaimed all three listeners simultaneously.

"Yes! Marry a s-q-i-a-w! Why not? Nothin' wrong about that, is there? I done it—and I reckon I'm as good as you are! I'm a doctor. I am -regular root and yarb doctor—my name's Sevier—Doctor Sevier."

"Good gracious? What are you good gracious?" cried the aston-ished campers.

"Good gracious? What are you good graciousing about? You fellers must be tenderfeet.

"We are! We've got corns and bunions when it comes to marrying squaws! We draw the line there!" said McFarlin.

"You'll git over P! 'Tain't so bad's you think! They're females, ain't they? Couldn't you stand a squaw if, you'd git 160 acres of land and her to work it? Hey?"

"Are thee squaws nice and cultivated?" Tom inquired.

"Nice and cultivated! Nice and cultivated! Ho! Ho! Of course they are. I just bought mine a pleanner!"

"Can she play it?"

"Can she play it?"

"Can she play it?"

"Can she play it?! Ho! Ho! She ain't got no time to play! She has to work! She hew my wood and draws my water—I tell ye. You fellers don't know your bis! Tou better take my advice and marry a squaw: Come along with me. I'll find you one aplece—or two, if you say so:"

No USE FOR PREACHERS.

NO USE FOR PREACHERS.

No USE FOR PREACHERS.

At this point in the interview it occurred to Tom to try and produce a diversion. He therefore put his hand to his mouth and said in a confidential whisper: "Doctor, you can", do anything with those other fellows. They're preachers!"

This unexpected announcement had all the effect of a thunderboit striking the good doctor in the middle of the forehead. His jaw dropped. His eyes grew dull. He stared in utter incredulty. A moment passed before he recovered his self-control, and then springing to his feet he grabbed his great white hat, pulled it down to his ears, vaulted into the saddle, kicked the astonished jinny with his heels until her ribs resounded and cried as he started down the road: "Preachers! preachers, rats, snakes, devilsers! preachers, rats, snakes, devilsers! Denembers for ever and ever! Git up, Jinny. Git up. Git up!"

The little ass brayed long and loud, her feet pounded the soft earth, she happed her ears and wagked her tail. The arms of her master rose and fell. The ywere enveloped in a cloud of dust. As they vanished, the three ministers between their peals of laughter, could hear the doctor's voice reiterating his emotions of disgust in evervanishing lones.

Charles Stewart, the Electric Railway Company employe, who skipped by the light of the moon with some of his wife's jewelry, it is said, has been located in New York, which is too far away for him to be brought back. He has been absent since March 22.

H. E. Huntington was in the city yesterday. He took a walk down Fair Oaks avenue to see the improvements being made by Col. Green, and properly in that section is expected to boom as a result. If the Pacific Electric official means to buy in the neighborhood he didn't may anything about it. The new City Hall begins to look like something, but the disgrantled ones refuse to say what. It has taken on a coat of many colors, white, green and yellow mostly.

M. B. Irvine has resigned as vice-president of the Y.M.C.A., and John B. Johnson has been chosen in his place. Mr. Irvine has sold out his business and will live in Kansas City. City Commissioner Brainard, who is also local representative of the Los Angeles Fire Underwriters' Association, is authority for the statement that local insurance rates will be lowered as soon as the new fire-engine house is equipped and established and the new fire plugs are placed. Those things are being accomplished rapidly. The terms of President C. J. Willett and D. W. Lewis of the Board of Education will expire next month. Their successors will be elected on June 5. The proposition to buy the strip of land east of the Santa F& tracks and to annext it to Lubrary Park calls forth the remark that then there would be a railroad running through the park. This would give the "chu-chu" cars a chance to kill off enough children in the course of a few years to eliminate the congestion in the public schools. John Connors, an employe at the government breakwater, narrowly escaped death this morning while working about the large derrick. He was standing on the trestle with his back turned to the dredger, when the dog-hook of that machine swung around and struck him, throwing him twenty-five feet to the rock line below. Connors sustained painful injuries in his ankle, but was not seriously hurt.
